Plenary Reflective Practice Group

Each Saturday of the Diploma Course ends with a reflective group bringing together the whole learning community, staff and students together. This is an opportunity to think about experiences on the course and how they link with everyday work, and time to share thoughts and feelings with all colleagues; it allows the unexpressed to be voiced and new connections to emerge in the foreground. It allows a space for individual and collective reflection at the end of each block.